

NICOLE KUCHELMEISTER

After completing my schooling in Schlieren/Zürich, I began my apprenticeship as a medical-technical radiology assistant (MTRA) at Limmattal Hospital, later continuing my education as a medical-technical assistant, which I completed in 1987.

Afterward, I discovered my love for traveling, which took me to countries like Africa, Australia and Indonesia. My marriage brought me to the beautiful Sarganserland. Soon after, my wonderful daughters Vanessa, Vivian, and Valérie were born.

In February 2012, I had the great fortune to be hired by Dr. Roy Bösiger and his wife Barbara Bösiger at Chiropraktik Bad Ragaz, where I still work with great joy every day.
